Chartwells Chats

September 2017

Volume Two Atlantic Canada

Welcome to the Fall edition of our Chartwells Chats newsletter. Of course with the new school year started, fall is back, and all of the lovely good eats will once again be available locally to us. Fresh items such as corn, potatoes, pumpkin and apples, just to name a few. Pumpkin products will be a huge hit this season. More and more of the students purchase fresh vegetables as a healthy option. Packages of beautifully displayed salads and fresh fruit options are in all our schools. Some school cafeterias are not able to keep it on the shelf. Times are changing and it truly is not just about fries anymore. Our students are making healthier choices all the time. Chartwells is 100% behind promoting healthy options for a healthy lifestyle.

In celebration of spring, we met with dieticians from many school districts. We are supporting them in the drive to help your students be well nourished. Well-nourished minds perform better academically and show improved behavior and concentration.

Chartwells is a positive role model in promoting healthy foods through: food presentation, pricing, student engagement and ongoing healthy promotions.
